DIVERSIFIED APPROACH: PERFORMANCE MIX

Pacific Protective Growth is a registered index-linked annuity.

The Performance Mix crediting strategy, available with Pacific Protective Growth registered index-linked annuity, leverages indexes from diverse market sectors that generally don't overlap, providing exposure to different market segments. This approach may allow you to benefit from the performance of three diverse indexes instead of needing to predict which one might perform best. Interest is determined according to the following weights: 50% for the highest-performing index, 30% for the second-highest-performing index, and 20% for the third-highest-performing index. The weighted average is used with a participation rate (a percentage that determines how much of the index return is credited) to determine the interest applied at the end of the term. The chart below demonstrates the historical performance of these three indexes alongside the weighted average of the Performance Mix crediting strategy.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The historical performance of each index is not representative of the Pacific Protective Growth annuity. Actual performance may be greater or less than shown. Performance may differ due to the level of protection and rate crediting strategy. Data source: Morningstar, Inc., as of January 1, 2026.

Pacific Life Insurance Company reserves the right to change or modify any non-guaranteed or current elements. The right to modify these elements is not limited to a specific time or reason.

The indexes are unmanaged and not available for direct investment. For interest-crediting calculations, the index performance does not include the reinvestment of dividends. When you allocate to an index that is linked to the performance of an exchange-traded fund (ETF), you are not investing in the ETF. Index-based ETFs seek to track the investment results of a specific market index. Due to a variety of factors, including the fees and expenses associated with an ETF, the performance of an ETF may not fully replicate or may, in certain circumstances, diverge significantly from the performance of the underlying index.

IMPORTANT DISCLOSURES: Annuities are long-term contracts designed for retirement. Annuity withdrawals and other distributions of taxable amounts, including death benefit payouts, will be subject to ordinary income tax. For nonqualified contracts, an additional 3.8% federal tax may apply on net investment income. If withdrawals and other distributions are taken prior to age 59½, an additional 10% federal income tax may apply. A withdrawal charge and a market value adjustment (MVA) also may apply. Withdrawals will reduce the contract value and the value of the death benefit, and also may reduce the value of any optional benefits.

In the absence of an owner making an election prior to the end of an index term, any contract value in an expiring index term for an index-linked option will remain in its current allocation for the next index term if the index-linked option is available and the market value adjustment (MVA) term is renewed as applicable. If we do not receive transfer instructions prior to the end of an expiring 1-, 2-, or 3-year term, index-linked options will remain in their current allocations for the next term if the index-linked option is available. If the same 1-, 2-, or 3-year option is not available then those funds would be transferred to the fixed account. If the same 6-year option is not available, the value in an expiring 6-year term will be transferred to the corresponding 1-year term with the same index, crediting strategy and protection level. If a corresponding 1-year term is not available for that index-linked option, the index-linked option value will be transferred to the fixed account. For all index terms, the new term is subject to the crediting strategy rates declared for that term, which may be different than the crediting strategy rates in the expiring term. For current and historical crediting strategy rates, please contact your financial professional or visit PacificLifeRates.com

An investment in a crediting strategy is subject to risks, including the possible loss of all or a significant portion of your principal investment and any credited contract earnings. This loss could be greater if withdrawals or surrenders occur due to the imposition of withdrawal charges, a market value adjustment, if applicable, and possible negative tax consequences.

The crediting strategy or protection level are not applied to the contract value until the end of the term. Before the end of a term, if the contract is surrendered or annuitized, a withdrawal is taken, or if the death benefit is paid, the transaction will reduce the interim value of the investment in that crediting option and could result in the loss of principal and previously credited contract earnings. Such losses could be as high as 100%. The interim value is the amount in the crediting option that is available for transactions that occur during the term, including full surrenders, withdrawals, free withdrawal amounts, and pre-authorized withdrawals, optional charges, guaranteed withdrawal amounts under the guaranteed lifetime withdrawal benefit, death benefit payments, and annuitization. The interim value could be less than the investment in the crediting strategy option even if the index is performing positively.
