WHAT IS A SEP-IRA?

A simplified employee pension (SEP) IRA is an employer-sponsored retirement savings plan that is easy to establish and administer. It allows you to make annual discretionary tax-deductible contributions for your employees.

WHO CAN SET UP A SEP-IRA?

Self-employed individuals often set up SEP-IRAs, although corporations, partnerships, tax-exempt organizations, and state and local government entities also are eligible to establish SEP-IRAs.

HOW A SEP-IRA PLAN WORKS

You may establish a SEP-IRA by completing IRS Form 5305-SEP, by adopting a prototype SEP-IRA plan document, or by creating an individually designed SEP plan. The deadline for establishing and funding a SEP-IRA is the tax-return due date of the business, including extensions. Any contributions are deposited into individual SEP-IRA accounts owned by each eligible employee. The maximum annual contribution per eligible employee is limited to the lesser of either 25% of compensation or $56,000 for 2019.

Key Features

- Easy to establish and administer; no IRS Form 5500 reporting.
- No third-party administrator necessary.
- From year to year, you may vary contribution percentages or stop contributions altogether.
- Income taxes on all contributions and earnings within a SEP-IRA are due only at distribution.
- Employees make investment decisions.
- Contributions can be made up to the tax-return due date of the business, including all extensions.

Points to Consider

- Using a pro rata contribution formula, you must contribute an equal percentage of compensation for all eligible employees.
- All contributions are 100% vested immediately.
- Part-time employees may be eligible to participate.
- A SEP-IRA is considered an employer-sponsored retirement plan and therefore may affect employees' ability to make deductible IRA contributions.
- Employees are not permitted to take loans from their SEP-IRAs.
