An Optional Benefit Available with Certain Pacific Life Variable Annuities

Why a Pacific Life Variable Annuity

A variable annuity is a long-term contract between you and an insurance company that helps you grow, protect, and manage retirement savings in a tax-advantaged way. Variable annuities can provide:

- Protected monthly lifetime income so that you have money for as long as you live.
- Protection against market loss through optional benefits that help minimize downside risk.
- Tax-deferred growth so that your money grows faster through the power of compounding.
- Flexible access to your money should you need it for the unexpected.
- Protection for your loved ones if you pass away.

Our variable annuities also offer features such as asset allocation and optional benefits that provide principal protection. Optional benefits are available for an additional cost.

Annuity withdrawals and other distributions of taxable amounts, including death benefit payouts, will be subject to ordinary income tax. For nonqualified contracts, an additional 3.8% federal tax may apply on net investment income. If withdrawals and other distributions are taken prior to age 59½, an additional 10% federal tax may apply. A withdrawal charge also may apply. Withdrawals will reduce the contract value and the value of the death benefits, and also may reduce the value of any optional benefits.

A Decade of Steady Growth

Future Income Generator provides steady growth for up to 10 years, which allows you to increase your future income. Here's how. Your initial purchase payment will equal what's called your protected payment base.

While you wait to take income, your protected payment base will grow by a simple-interest annual credit of 7% each year.

$$\text{Initial Protected Payment Base} \times 7\% = \text{Annual Credit Amount}$$

The protected payment base grows each year by the annual credit amount, which increases your lifetime income.¹

$$\text{Protected Payment Base} + \text{Annual Credit Amount} = \text{New Protected Payment Base}$$

A Lifetime of Protected Income

Once you're ready to take income, you'll have a protected payment amount you can count on for life.

Your annual lifetime income, or protected payment amount, is calculated by multiplying your protected payment base by the lifetime withdrawal percentage that corresponds to your age when you make your first withdrawal.²

How It Works

Using a hypothetical example of a $100,000 initial purchase payment and 7% annual credit, the charts on the following pages show your annual lifetime income amount depending on:

- Your age at the time you purchase your contract.
- The number of years you allow your income to grow before taking income.
- The lifetime withdrawal percentage at the time you start taking income.

As of 11/1/22, the annual charges are 1.45% for the Single Life option and 1.55% for the Joint Life option. The annual charge is a percentage of the protected payment base (deducted quarterly).

¹The annual credit ends at the earlier of your first withdrawal or 10 years. The annual credit amount is based on the initial protected payment base or the protected payment base after a reset. The annual credit is not added to the contract value.

²Withdrawal restrictions may apply to amounts taken above the allowed percentage.

Single Life Option

Let's walk through an example, which assumes you purchase the Single Life option:

- You purchase your contract with $100,000 at age 65.
- You wait 10 years before you start taking income to allow the 7% simple-interest annual credit to grow the protected payment base to $170,000.
- At age 75, your lifetime withdrawal percentage would be 5.65%. This gives you $9,605 annually for the rest of your life, even if the contract value is reduced to zero.

Under current law, a nonqualified annuity that is owned by an individual is generally entitled to tax deferral. IRAs and qualified plans—such as 401(k)s and 403(b)s—are already tax-deferred. Therefore, a deferred annuity should be used only to fund an IRA or qualified plan to benefit from the annuity's features other than tax deferral. These include lifetime income, death benefit options, and the ability to transfer among investment options without sales or withdrawal charges.

Future Income Generator is named "Guaranteed Withdrawal Benefit XXII Rider—Single Life" and "Guaranteed Withdrawal Benefit XXII Rider—Joint Life" in the contract rider.

Only one optional guaranteed minimum withdrawal benefit (GMWB) can be purchased on a variable annuity.
